

Introducing . . .

George Loring

Vice President of Partner Relations

MINISTRY

George has served Missions Door since April of 2007. As Vice President of Partner Relations, George is a member of the Executive Leadership Team, which provides general oversight of the total ministry and operation of the Mission.

George specifically oversees the partner development process. This is the program that equips and trains missionaries to be funded by ministry partners (churches and individuals). His time is divided between one-on-one mentoring and coaching, as well as individual and group training and encouragement.

BACKGROUND

George was born into a military family and remembers moving many times. He was not raised in a Christian home, and was exposed to the Gospel through a Good News Club. He didn't attend church until his high school years and that was because his mother had become a Christian.

While in his junior year of college, under the influence of the Campus Ambassador ministry at Northern Arizona University, he became a Christian.

George graduated from college and worked on the Apollo space program. After attending Denver Seminary, pastored for twenty-five years. In 1997 his focus changed to the area of Christian Fundraising. He served with Denver Seminary, Rocky Mountain Churches and WorldVenture before coming to Missions Door.

FAMILY

George and Theresa have been married since 1968. They have four grown children and 8 wonderful grandchildren who live in greater Metro Denver.
